

University of Chemistry and Technology Prague

Opens a call for the year 2026
according to the Statute¹ of the Julie Hamackova Award in category c)

Contest of Student's Works

Prepared by students of bachelor's, master's and doctoral study programs who integrate gender or sex analysis into their research topic (hereinafter referred to as the "Contest")

I. Objectives and categories of the Contest

1. The aim of the Contest is to reward the works of students of bachelor's, master's and doctoral study programs who include gender and/or sex analysis in their research topic. The purpose of the Contest is to strengthen the interest in enriching the content and methods of research and innovation with gender aspects and to integrate this type of analysis into the final student thesis at the UCT Prague.
2. For the year 2026, call for a Contest of student's works is open in categories Student work of the SRC (SVK) type and in category Final thesis.

II. Terms of participation

1. Papers of works eligible for the Contest are those, that take into consideration aspects of gender or sex analysis in their own research topic, or in proposed topics, examples of which are listed and published at <https://gro.vscht.cz/dokumenty-old>.
2. Papers of works for the Contest may be prepared by one or more students of the UCT Prague, but the awarding or financial remuneration of the work won't be increased with the number of authors.
3. The Contest is open to works carried out or defended in the period XI / 2025 - XI / 2026. Works carried out or defended in previous academic years do not meet eligibility criteria.
4. Participation of student's works in the faculty SRC ("SVK") does not exclude simultaneous participation in this Contest.
5. If the student work, which was submitted to the faculty's SRC ("SVK") meets conditions of the Contest, it can be submitted to this Contest. As well.

¹ <https://gro.vscht.cz/dokumenty-old>

III. Requirements for the application

1. Applications for the Contest have to be submitted by the e-mail to cjh@vscht.cz.
2. Application can be submitted by a student - author of the work or by his/her supervisor.
3. The application must contain:
 - name and surname, telephone and school e-mail of the author(s),
 - title of the work submitted to the Contest,
 - For SRC type of Student work also an abstract, taking into account the implementation of gender or sex analysis in the content of the work (up to 1 pages A4, in EN and CZ).
4. It is possible to apply for the contest within the listed topics or with your own topic within the deadlines according to article IV. of this call.
5. With regard to the provisions of article II, point 2 of this call, it is possible to consult one's own topic in advance by sending an e-mail to cjh@vscht.cz.

IV. Contest schedule

- | | |
|---|--------------|
| 1. Deadline for submission of applications and submission of works in a category Final thesis (Závěrečná práce) | 11. 10. 2026 |
| 2. Deadline for submission of applications and emailing of abstracts in a category Student's work type SRC (applications will be accepted until capacity is reached) | 22. 11. 2025 |
| 3. Presentation of works in a category the Student's work type SRC | 26.11. 2026 |
| 4. Evaluation of the Contest in both categories | 26.11. 2026 |
| 5. Publication of Contest results | 3.12. 2026 |

V. Evaluation of Contest's works

1. Decision regarding granting of awards is made by an evaluation committee consisting of at least three members, constituted as follows:
 - at least one representative of the UCT Prague with gender expertise
 - Vice-Rector of the UCT Prague for Research and Development or his / her deputy
 - Experts in the fields of evaluated works topics.
2. The evaluation is running based on the assessment of the works by the evaluation committee, in case of a Student's works of the SRC type after the presentation of the work by its author(s) (preferably using the MS PowerPoint program).
3. Fulfillment of implementation of the gender or sex analysis in the topic of the work is a basic criterion in the evaluation by the committee. A work with this analysis is such one, that deals with and/or takes into account categories of gender and/or sex in the selected research topic, formulation of research questions, choice of methodology, data collection, data analysis, interpretation of results and/or monitoring of impact of research results, and newly - developed technologies on female or male organism or takes into account needs of women and men as end-users of newly developed products or services.

4. The evaluation committee will decide on the results of the Contest in a closed session, which follows immediately after the end of the presentations of all contesting works in the Student Works SRC category.

VI. Rewarding and results announcement

1. In 2026, Awards in the form of financial rewards will be set for the category Student work of the SRC type and the category Final thesis in the following amounts:

For the Final thesis category:

- reward in amount up to CZK 15 000

Determined by the decision of the evaluation committee according to the quality of the competing works.

For the category Student's work SRC type:

- 1st place: reward in amount up to CZK 12 000 / contesting work,
- 2nd place: reward in amount up to CZK 8 500 Kč / contesting work,
- 3rd place: reward in amount up to CZK 5 000 Kč / contesting work,

Determined by the decision of the evaluation committee according to the quality of the competing works.

- Remuneration for participation for all un-awarded works, which according to the evaluation committee meet the thematic focus of the Contest (eligible works). The number of individual awards and the remuneration for participation will be determined by the distribution of the remaining funds, budgeted for the Contest, among the eligible contesting works.
2. The application for the competition does not entitle the right to receive an award or a remuneration for participation.
3. The announcement of the results of the Contest and awarding of diplomas immediately follows the decision of the evaluation committee according to Article V., point 4 of this call.
4. The financial rewards according to the results of the Contest set by the evaluation committee, resp. remuneration for the participation of eligible works, will be transferred to the bank accounts of the participants of the Contest with a due date in the near future term for the payment of scholarships.

In Prague on 9/19/2026

Ing. Anna Mittnerová,

Founder of the Contest,
Department of R&T

prof. Ing. Pavel Novák, Ph.D.
Vice-Rector for Research and Development